What is happening

- You have the right to remain silent. You do not have to answer questions about your immigration status or where you were born.
ACLU Know Your Rights
- Do not open the door unless agents show a warrant signed by a judge with your correct name and address. Ask them to slide it under the door.
ACLU Know Your Rights
- Do not sign any documents without speaking to a lawyer first. Signing could mean giving up your right to a hearing.
ACLU Know Your Rights
- You have the right to speak with a lawyer. Say clearly that you want to speak with one, and do not answer further questions until you do.
ACLU Know Your Rights
- Do not lie to agents and do not show false documents. It can make your situation much worse.
ACLU Know Your Rights
- Memorize the phone number of a trusted person and an immigration attorney. Keep copies of important documents with someone you trust.
ACLU Know Your Rights

Please speak with a qualified immigration attorney as soon as possible so that someone with the right training can review your family's specific situation.

What to do next

TONIGHT

- ① Call an immigration attorney as soon as possible. Ask the attorney how to find out where Jose is being held.
- ② Ask the attorney these questions before the call ends: What do I do first? What documents do you need from me? What should I tell my children?
- ③ Do not sign any documents related to Jose's case before speaking with an attorney.
- ④ Gather the documents listed below and keep them somewhere safe tonight.
- ⑤ Write down everything you remember about the detention: the date, the time, the location, and anything Jose or anyone else said.
- ⑥ Make sure the children are with a trusted adult tonight.

DO NOT

- Do not sign any documents without speaking to a lawyer first. Signing could mean giving up Jose's right to a hearing.
- Do not open the door to agents unless they show a warrant signed by a judge with the correct name and address. Ask them to slide it under the door.
- Do not answer questions about immigration status or place of birth. You have the right to remain silent.
- Do not show or give anyone false documents. Do not say anything that is not true to agents. It can make the situation much worse.

Spiritual support

Maria, we know this night is frightening. You do not have to face it alone. The church is with you and is thinking of you and your children. In this package you will find a checklist for tonight and a list of people to contact. You are welcome to call. We can pray together. You are not alone.

«God is our refuge and strength, an ever-present help in times of trouble.»

— Psalm 46:1, BSB. Public Domain

The system chose this verse from the church's verified verse bank and checked it matches the source word for word. The pastor approved it.

You are carrying something very heavy right now. This verse says that God is a refuge and a strength, and a help that is present in trouble.
